The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times wires his paper as follows, the dispute a splearing under the head, "Pleading for Judge Zase," in last Saturday's issue: "Judge Beneura, of the Ohio Re Mississippi railroad, an old triend of President Haunson and Attorney-General Micron, is here with P. W. Thaox, presiof the First National bank of Spring-Beld, III., argues the appointment of Judge Carnus S. Zeen as chief justice of Utah, the position be held under Autuen. They ed on the President to-day and presente and a petition signed by over 1,000 Gentile resi-tents of the territory. Judge Zana was senator Cualou's law partner at the time he latter was elected governor of Illinois. The Mormous will probably make a strong fight nealist Judge Zank's reappointment, for during the time he presided over Utah he sont scores of polygamists to the peni-

used that the handful of adit is presented that the being about a handful of mer not jet disgusted by him-will find encouragement if not comfort in with above. But we suggest to them the wisdom of not permitting their spirits to become too jubilant over this dispatch. If they will read the words carefully and in they will find in the lines nothing fice of chief paster, and they must all know that there cannot be two chief justices for one territory at the same time.

Those who are opposed to Sanorono and in favor of Zane may get Saxoronn and in favor of Zaxe may get all the consolation there is in this statement of the President's position.

But leaving Judge Saxoronn out of the case entirely, what hope is there for Judge Zaxe! The least possible. His record on the bench is anything but creditable, and President Harneson knows all about that record. The President is acquainted with Zaxe's outrage one admistration of the law, knows of his infamous railings on the bench, is familiar with his obuilitions of hate and munifestations of prejudice, and is aware-investigation of prejudice, and is aware-investigation of projudice, and is awaresunifestations of prejudice, and is aware of the terrorizing practiced by him which varialy sold the industries of Utah, and kept the entire community on the verge of distraction. Knowing all this, can one conit possible that the President will reuirs which beinaugurated and maintained? To suggest this is to reflect on General comity toward the Utah community; in short, to make him as mean and hateful as Zaxis has shown himself to se. Nothing in President Hamusov's career justifies my such vicious imputation. Nothing that he

I close with the suggestion that human free agency is alone and depends on us and not on teed. We have arrived at the highest point. If we forget I this we full. When I was in Germany I saw an inscription on a tembstone which read. To the mesoncy of our son Hans, who was killed by fulling from a steeple. Only those who know the height of a steeple know the depth of our sorrows. So we see at the top, and if we fall it will be to the lowest depth. We believe that all men are free and equal and that the right of flooring is sometimes distorted by decamers. At Cooper institute in New York recordly I heard a lecture explain this by saying that no man should possess what other men of most obsesses. This was not Thomas Jefferson's idea, he meant

A bessing on our President. Thore are many thoughts in our mind to-day concerning the future growth and prosperity of our country, only yet an experiment of the great problem of self-government. There are three great dangers which I wish to-call your attention to this morning, to guard against, which I think are supermost in your minds. I think we should study them squarely in the face and do what we can so avert them. Before proceeding, I will just mention the special problem which Christian reformers are taking hold of in the wrong way. We can not change people by legislation, but must appeal direct to the beginning the properly taught. I will sow proceed to mention the difficulties and dangers we encounter. The lirst is

I do not see any danger in if if we look at it as a trust from our Father in heaven, a gift which came legitimately from God. We should not grasp it selfshly, but we should give to God a portion of that which he has given to us. I need not stup to speak of how it besets our pathway, for that is known to all readers of the newspapers. The second exil is
